

MABEL POBLET

Mabel Poblet was born in Cienfuegos, Cuba in 1986 and graduated from the National Academy of Fine Arts "San Alejandro" and the University of Art (Instituto Superior de Arte).

She apprenticed in a workshop started by Cuban installation artist Tania Bruguera, an opportunity that brought her together with many of the best-known Cuban artists of the day. Since then, Poblet has participated in more than 20 personal exhibitions and over 100 group exhibitions. Poblet's works are a close examination of her own life – who she is as a Latina growing up in Castro's Cuba, where she came from, and her relationship to Cuban culture overall.

Mabel Poblet's work can be seen in public collections worldwide, such as the Contemporary Art Museum of Tampa (FL), the Cisneros Fontanals Art Foundation in Miami (FL), the Donald Rubin Collections (NY), the Gilbert Brownstone Foundation (France), MOLAA (LA), and the Foundation Ministry of Nomadas (UK). She represented Cuba at the Cuban Pavilion at the 2017 Venice Biennale and was honored with the Noemi Award of the Day at the Brownstone Foundation fellowship in Paris (2014).
